The Terry Fox Foundation

Terry Fox was 18 years old when he was diagnosed with osteogenic sarcoma (bone cancer) in his right leg. His leg was amputated 15 cm above the knee. It was during this time that he decided he wanted to help raise money for cancer research by running across Canada. He set out on his Marathon of Hope on April 12, 1980 in St John's, Newfoundland.

On September 1, 1980 Terry was forced to end his Run in Thunder Bay, Ontario due to a return of cancer to his lungs. He had run 5,373 kilometres through six provinces. Terry died in 1981.

To date, over $400 million has been raised worldwide. The Run is held in more than 35 countries every year.

Without the participants that collect pledges and the generosity of the people who support them, advancements in cancer treatment would not have progressed to the point they are today.

The Terry Fox Foundation strives to make sure as much money as possible is directed towards research consistent with Terry's wishes. We are fiscally responsible to our donors and are proud of our operating cost ratio that allocates 87 cents of every dollar raised used for cancer research.

The incredible commitment and enthusiasm Canadian youth display every year is an inspiration to all of us.

Last year, over 2,850,000 students at 8,400 schools participated!

To maintain the vision and principles of Terry Fox while raising money for cancer research through the annual Terry Fox Run, Terry Fox Works initiatives, National School Run Day, as well as via memoriam donations and planned gifts. The Terry Fox Foundation Mission Statement
